NEW OFFICERS ELECTED AT WEDNESDAY MEETING

Election of officers and directors was the program at the Kiwanis meeting Wednesday. A to the meeting the board of directors held a session when they elected to membership several applicants, as follow: Charles E. Moore, Rev. Edgar Flory, and Royal A. Wright. The new members were presented at the meet ing and on next Monday even-ing will be given formal honors.

Dr. Clippert Retires
The term as president of Dr. Clarence G. Clippert expired at that meeting. It was due to his efforts that a Kiwanis club was organized in Grayling. He gave generously of his time in work of the club and made its first year a signal success. It would have been the wish of the members to have him continue for another year however he felt that the honor should be passed

Vice President T. P. Peterson also felt that as a vice president of the East Michigan Tourist association that he should not accept additional duties such as would devolve upon the president of the club, and withdrew.
Emil Giegling New President

The splendid work done during the past year by Emil Giegling made him the outstanding candidate for president and he was given the unanimous vote of the members. Mr. Giegling was a member of the program mittee to which he gave a lot of attention and also took prominent part in the club meetings and the club affairs. He is a capable leader and full of energy and a successful year for the club with him as its leader is well assured. Schumann, who also served on the program committee, was elected vice president, and C. W. Olsen was re-elected

New Executive Committee

The following members were elected to serve for the following year on the board of directors: Charles E. Moore.

Farnum Matson. Dr. C. R. Keyport. Fred R. Welsh. T. P. Peterson. Roy Trudgen.

These men and the officers and retiring president make up the new board of directors. Immediately after the election of the new directors, that body elected J. Joseph to continue in the office of secretary

To Observe Armistice Day Next Monday evening the Ki-wanians will observe Armistice day. At 7:30 p. m. there will be a banquet at Shoppenagons Inn, at which time the officers and wives of five nearby CCC camps and the wives of the members will be guests of the club. Chaplain Connolly will give an ad dress at the banquet after which the company will enjoy an evening of dancing.

6,000 New Jobs In Past Week

Major Howard Starret, State Director of the National Re-employment Service, announced to day that 6.285 men and women had been placed on jobs in Mich igan during the past week. Of this number 1,521 were placed in private employment and the balance on work-relief projects.

According to Major Starret 4,303 unemployed people registered for work in Michigan during the past week. This is the consecutive week that placements have exceeded regis trations. Applicants in the De-troit area reached 1,550 compared to a placement total of 4,742. Other offices reported the fol lowing applications: Alma, in cluding Owosso and West Branch 140; Alpena, 84; Ann Arbor, including Hillsdale, Jackson, Mon-roe and Adrian, 318; Bessemer 76; Charlotte and Allegan, 44 Houghton, 5; Iron Mountain, including Daggett and Iron River 63: Manistee, including Reed City and Cadillac, 124; Mar-quette, including Munising, Es-canaba and Manistique, 272; Muskegon, including Grand Rapids, Big Rapids, and Hol-land, 259; Petoskey, 71; Saginaw. including Port Huron, Mt. Clemens, Bay City, Flint and Pontiac, 997: St. Joseph, Kalamazoo and Battle Creek, 211; Sault Ste. Marie, 32: Traverse City, 37.

Referrals and placements to private and Federal jobs in Michigan were distributed among the districts as follows: Alma, 119; Alpena, 123; Ann Arbor, 487; Houghton, 7: Iron Mountain, 281; Manistee. 55; Marquette, 364; Muskegon-Grand Rapids, 243: Petoskey, 53; St. Joseph, 85; Sault Ste. Marie, 101; Traverse City. 79, and the area containing Saginaw, Bay City, Flint, Pontiac and Port Huron, 388.

"We are looking forward to a tremendous increase in place-ments during the next few weeks." Major Starret said. "With federal funds pouring into the state, new projects being open ed, and with our private placement department making con-tacts with employers of all sorts of labor, we are looking forward to finding work for many thousands of Michigan's unemployed during the month of November."

CARS INCORPORATE MANY CHANGES

New Chevrolet cars incorporating hydraulic brakes and other changes from last year's models, were introduced here Saturday and Sunday by Alfred Hanson, the local distributor, at Temple

The line for 1936 is to consist of master de luxe and standard body types. The master series is equipped with either knee action or conventionally sprung wheels as desired. The styling has been changed by using a higher and narrower grille with a new treatment of hood louvers, headlamps and interior trim.

The standard or lower-priced series, it is stated, have been redesigned in chassis and bodies to make them correspond more closely to the master series. The main difference now is said to lie only in the wheelbase

Other changes applying to both groups include higher compression ratio (6 to 1) and full length water-jacketing of the cylinders.
Front doors of all models are

The "turret top" used on the master models last year has been adopted for the standard line also. Spoke-type pressed steel wheels, instead of wire wheels, are used on the standards.

In the standard models, there is a new box girder chassis frame, more powerful engine, wheelbase and larger longer The line of body types has been increased to seven by the addition of three models—the four-door sport sedan with built-in trunk, the two-door town sedan with built-in trunk, and the carrect.

109-Inch Wheelbase The standard wheelbase, formerly 107 inches, is now 109, while its overall length, last year 170 1/2 inches, is 12 to 13 inches greater Bodies are longer and wider with more leg room, wider seats and additional head room. Car weight is increased 135 pounds.

Horsepower of the standard, formerly 74, has been increased to 79 at 3,200 r.p.m. by changes in combustion chamber design valve operation and carburetion in combination with an increase in compression ratio from 5.6 to 1

Fuel tank capacity, formerly 11 gallons, is now 14. A ventilated generator has been adopted.

POOR BOARD AND PHYSIC IANS AGREE ON RATES

When the Committee pertain ing to crippled and afflicted children in the state announced that from that time on the State would pay to surgeons not over $1.00 for surgical operations, the latter protested and justly so. What reputable surgeon would offer his skill and knowledge for that paltry fee unless it were in a crisis and under critical conditions?

In the past physicians and surgeons have been serving in cases of afflicted and crippled children for half their regular fees. Certainly this was fair for all concerned.

Last Monday night Judge of Probate Sorenson and the members of Crawford County Poor commission met at the offices of Drs. Keyport and Clippert to discuss the matter, with the result that in the future bills for this kind of service will be paid for by the County at half the usual rate charge. Similar actions, it is reported, were taken in many other counties of the state.

Armistice Day Proclamation By the Mayor.

Monday. November 11th is Armistice Day. According to law this is a legal holiday nationally. Therefore let us observe the day by display of flags and I respectfully request that places of business be closed so that proper observance of the day may be had in memory of the declaration of Peace, on November 11th, 1918.

A visit to the kitchen, hospital, barracks and supply rooms was interesting. Everything seemed to be so complete and well conducted. The report that Michigan CCC camps are using Oregon cherries instead of Traverse City cherries doesn't hold true in this camp for there was a large sup ply of Traverse City brand cher ries on the shelves.

Everywhere about the area is evidence of the good work that has been done by the officers and enrollees of the camp.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON ON THE MAN WHO IS TO

LEARN TO KNOW HIS FAMILY

M SORRY, I don't remember you." A shell-shocked war veteran, after an absence of 11 years, said that to his family who were gathered together to welcome him home.

Mother, father, brothers, sister wife and a son of eleven—he knew not one of them. His mind a complete blank regarding everything that happened before the war, even his right name is something that he has to take on trust. For during the interval of more than ten vears that he was wondering about not knowing who he was, he acquired another name.

Out of the tragedy that struck this wounded soldler and his family one thought keeps forcing itself upon me. And that is the unique experience of becoming acquainted with one's own family. This man will know his family really as people-he will have a chance to find out whether he really likes them The bond of the family tie that comes of the warp and the woof of daily living and a lifetime of close the other hand, he will not know the faults and acquired stigmas, the family judgments and prejudes which persist sometimes from childhood weaknesses to brand a personallty within the family circle. The man who does not remember or recognize his family will start with a clean slate

It will be up to the family to "sell themselves" to him. Naturally they will try to be at their best with him-as they would with any stranger with whom they were to become acquainted And in so being treated like a stranger, this man who comes nack has something to be thankful for and a head start to really "king his family!

DANNY'S HOME-COMING | fat Meado

WHEN the first Jolly Sunbeams came stealing through the Green Forest, Danny Meadow began to be uneasy. was thoroughly rested and the dangers of the dreadful night were already forgotten. Perhaps I should not say that they were forgotten, for, of course, that isn't quite true. But Danny had quite put them out of his mind. That is the way with the little people of the Green Korest and the Green Meadows. Dangers that are past are not worth thinking about. They must keep their minds clear for possible dangers to come. Danus's thoughts were not of what he had been through, but were wholiv of getting home, He thanked his cousin, Whitefoot, for all the latter had done for him and then climbed out of the hollow stump and once more started for the Green Meadows and home. As long as he was in the Green Forest he was apxions. He didn't feel at home there. He didn't know what to expect: He imagined all sorts of dangers. But the instant he reached the edge of the Green Mendows his heart became light, He still had a long way to go and many things might happen before he reached that sanug little home and Nanny Meadow Mouse and the bables. But Dannyle heart was thise wonderful eyes of his for a T. W. Bergers WAR Beryles worry Danny in the least. You see he knew just how to keep out of sight.

After a while he reached one of his own private little paths. The brown grass hung over it making a regular little tunnel of it. Danny scampered along as fast as his short legs would take him and so presently he reached his snug, safely hidden little home. The half grown children raced out to/meet him to see if he had brought them something. Inside, the bables were having an after-dinner nap. Nanny Meadow Mouse there was no sign. You see, Nanny was out getting her own dinner. It was while he waited for her that Danny began to wonder how ever he would be able to explain his long absence He suspected that Nanny would be very cross, very cross, indeed. He suspected that he was due for a scolding, such a scolding as only Nanny's sharp tongue could give He knew that he deserved it. He was glad, ever so glad, to be home but he felt most uncomfortable, By and by, as he sat just outside his snug little home, he heard footsteps hurrying along one of the private little paths. It was Nanny hurrying home to her bables. When she saw Danny she stopped short and stared at him as if she thought her eyes were playing her tricks. Then, instead of the sharp words light, for on the Green Meadows he aspected and know he richly de he knew just what:to, so and where perved, Nanny rushed to him cryto go! HELPFUL HOME HINTS

IF THE cork is too large for the bottle in which you wish to use it roll it under a board to elongate it, after soaking it a few minutes in hot water.

A handy device for holding the safety razor blade may now be found in the department stores.

A tablespoon of vinegar added to tough meat or chicken will soften the fiber and make it less tough.

Use it in the water when cooking. To make mint extract fill a bottle with the fresh mint and pack it in well; cover with alcohol and let stand for two weeks, then drain off and the extract is ready for flavoring and mint drinks. Use pure alcohol and it will be perfectly all right.

When steel ornaments, buckles and buttons of cut steel become tarnished rub them with unslaked lime and leave them in it for a short time, when they will be beautifully cleaned.

Suede shoes will be improved by rubbing them with fine emery paper. Corn meal well moistened with gasoline will clean velvet hats, collars, and felt hats so that they will look fresh and new. Renew the corn meal after cleaning and go over the article to be sure it has been well done. Save the bacon fat, pour water over it and allow it to settle. The fat will come to the top, the burnt particles sink into the water. Skim off the fat and use it for all sorts of cooking. Nice for french potatoes, hash browned, or it may take the place of butter in gingerbreads and spice cakes. An ink remover-Pour a tablespoon or two of turpentine into a saucer, add some powdered soap, stir until dissolved, then bottle and keep for any such emergency as grease spots, or ink on carpet or rugs. If applied at once before the ink dries, the snots will come out Rinse with warm water and rub

A STATE OF THE STA

... If mumbers mean success, the Boy Scout Hallowe'en party could have been nothing else but a highly successful affair. Over 400 school children jammed themselves into the school gym and some 200 parents and guests filled the balcony. At 6:30 the crowd began to gather and when the doors were opened at 7:00 people flowed in as water would from a broken dam.

Even though the crowd twice as large as was anticipated and planned for, the scouts handled their various jobs in true scout fashion. Only a few of the multitude could be cared for in because of the contests mostly the limited time allotted to running the various games.

Everyone got his money's worth as "Sammy" Lovely outboxed "Joe" Bowen, but not without taking a few himself. The next bout drove the crowd into a frenzy as "Slugger" Smith lived up to his name and drove "Kid Shadow". Deckroy all as "Kid Shadow" Deckrow all around the ring during the first round. Round two was another matter with the "Kid" holding his own and partly paying back for his first-round bloody nose. However the "Slugger" had piled up too big a margin to be over-

The program scheduled and a happy crowd of parents and children moved slowly out the exits, content the thought that another Hallowe'en had passed without leaving too deep a scar.

A crowd of older boys and girls stayed and danced to the strains of musical recordings. THROUGH: A ard thre 🎉 Woman's Lyes

By JEAN NEWTON

A LITTLE CHIVALRY FROM THE LADIES"

DEAR Jean Newton-What do you think of a man writing to a newspaper a letter which he heads "A Little Chivalry From the Ladles," complaining that Ladies," complaining that women go out into the world to compete with men, take their jobs away from them, and then expect all the tesies and amenities of the Age of Chivalry for which they offer only complete lack of consideration and even rudeness—"with the idea that they can ge away with it simply because of their sex?"

I cannot subscribe to all the man's statements, and I believe my readers will agree that he wrote probably under the impulse of a bitter any under the impulse of a bitter moment. However, there is food for a wealth of thought in that title, "A Little Chivalry From the Ladies."

There are still too many who want to have their cake and eat it, too. And by that I do not refer to the desire for gallantry that will live in every woman's breast no matter what place she may take in the competitive world with men. It seems to me that the men worth reckoning with are not those who will quibble about such matters as removing their hats in an elevator or holding open doors for us. I refer to matters that go for us. I refer to matters that go deeper than that and which the finest type of men will resent as small and unfair, and in the lan-guage of the disgruntled man quoted above, "unchivalrous" on the part of women.

They are the attempts of some women to get something for noth-ing on the ground of being women. For instance, I was told of a case where two salespeople were waiting in an anteroom for the appearance of a buyer. The man had arrived long before the woman, but she openly insulted him for taking his turn and not allowing her to precede him in her competitive capacity. There can be little doubt that the unchivalrous person there was the woman. And then there are the many little ways in which some women stoop to petty graft at the expense of men, allowing them, on pain of embarrassment, to shoul-der expenses for them in situations where that is manifestly uncalled for. Too many women still do that. And in common fairness and principally on the grounds of self-respect, it's out of date. A Dall Gundlagte .
